

2019 P-12 Educator Conference - Newsletter Announcement

The P-12 Educator Conference is back with an exciting new approach! The Pre-College Engineering Education Division of ASEE has partnered with the local public schools in the Tampa area to provide their P-12 educators with session topics relevant for their district. This one-day conference will take place starting at 9:00 am on Saturday, June 15, 2019 at Rampello K-8 School in the School District of Hillsborough County. The conference is structured with four time slots for sessions from 9:00-3:30, with multiple offerings in each time slot, followed by a Curriculum Showcase. Lunch will be provided. Please consider applying to present a session, or registering to attend the conference if you are a teacher from out of the area or if you are a high-leverage educator.

Presenter Proposal Application

Do you have an interactive and engaging classroom activity appropriate for elementary, middle, or high schools students? We are looking for dynamic and interactive presentations to be delivered to over 200 P-12 teachers in the Tampa area focused on early learner engineering, project-based learning, design thinking, sustainability, and other related topics. We will also be having the Curriculum Showcase at the end of the day. Please use the following links for more information and to submit your presenter and/or showcase application. Please contact Bradley Bowen at bowenb@vt.edu with any questions.

Attendee Registration

The primary attendees of the 2019 P-12 Educator Conference will be educators from the School District of Hillsborough County (SDHC). However, we have reserved 25 spaces for non-SDHC educators. If you are an educator from outside this district, or if you are in a high-leverage position for offering professional development or coordination of teacher training, please consider registering to attend the conference. Spaces will be filled on a first-come first-serve basis with a waiting list. Registration costs for these 25 limited spaces is $50 and includes participation in the full day of sessions, the curriculum exchange, and lunch.
